

Core³ Music and Movies

Over the last 5 years integrated audio and video entertainment systems have become an essential part of many yacht's systems.

Owners and guests alike can get great pleasure from their Core³ Music and Movies

A well specified system on a yacht will have:

- Access to satellite TV in various languages
- Main areas with large screens providing high visual impact
- Access to music and movies from a centralised library
- Party mode
- Individual access to their own music collection
- Ease of use with a single, simple remote control.

Watch Satellite (HD) TV and IPTV:

Satellite TV providers are abundant around the world. They are regional and in order to receive and view TV a marine stabilised satellite TV antenna is required connected to a distribution system with the appropriate satellite receivers and subscriptions for the area in question.

In addition to the stabilised antennas we offer a large range of worldwide satellite TV receivers with subscriptions. Some of the services offered are also in high definition HDTV format.

New IPTV services are becoming available from a new set of service providers. These will allow the yacht to watch the same programming worldwide via the Internet when using a VSAT.

The full Movie experience:

At least one main area on a yacht is usually designated for the full Movie experience by installing a large size screen using a large plasma, LCD or projector with screen and high quality audio equipment. The video and sound reproduction is very important to achieve the ultimate Movie experience.

Music to party by

Party mode is the term used to play the same music in all areas, from the aft decks to the sun deck, to the main areas. Music can be played throughout the yacht, in the background, when guests are arriving on board. If a dance party is organised, the music played by the DJ in the main salon can be distributed throughout the yacht in all exterior areas and salons.

Central Music and Movie library

With a central library, such as a Kaleidescape system, you can simplify the way you collect, manage and enjoy your Music and Movies. It will store and automatically organize your CD and DVD collections and make them available for fast, easy access. Movies and music can be instantly delivered to any room on the yacht, at any time.

Personal iPod and MP3 digital media collection

Today almost everyone has some kind of personal digital media collection of music, photos and movies stored on small portable devices like an iPod, iPhone, cellphone or MP3 player. Guests can bring them on board and plug them into the system on board using a docking station.

Total Control

A single room can have a number of different devices that are all equipped with their own remote control. To avoid having to use 5 different remote controls we supply simple remote control solutions that use one handset to control all the different devices at the single press of a button.

Various manufacturer models of remote controls are available including Creston, AMX and Philips Pronto. These are the most widely used and can even be used to control the room temperature, lights and curtains.

Integration of Core3 Music and Movies

Many years of experience have helped us select the most suitable and best quality equipment to be used on yachts. Our Core³ Music and Movies technology uses our Core³ Network technology to enable the distribution and control around the yacht.

Our well established partnerships with the main suppliers of audio and video equipment combined with our factory trained technicians means we can offer full service and support on our systems.
